

ABSTRACT

A percussion musical instrument comprising a set of clave blocks each comprising a body having an open cavity therewithin. The bodies of the clave blocks have substantially
5 equal exterior dimensions and assorted volumes of the open cavities therewithin provided to generate musical tones of assorted pitches, such as low pitch, medium pitch and high pitch. A volume of the open cavity of the low pitch clave block of the set is larger than a volume of the open cavity of the medium pitch clave block, while the volume of the open cavity of the medium pitch clave block is larger than a volume of the open cavity of the high pitch clave
10 block. Each of the clave blocks of the set further includes a mounting rings.